Value of Advertising Is Discussed by The Grange

KELLERS CHURCH, Feb. 5.—"How much should the farmer advertise?" was the subject for discussion at a meeting of the Kellers Church Grange, last week. Theodore Lewis presented to the members several methods of advertising which he has found prove successful. The farmers were told they must advertise in a way that will impress the public.

Mr. Lewis gave instances of the successful advertising of rabbits and eggs.

"I was successful in selling rabbits because I advertised the many appetizing dishes which can be prepared from rabbits," said Mr. Lewis, who also said he carried on the same campaign with reference to eggs, showing how many dishes can be prepared by using eggs.

He urged the farmers to have quality in their produce which always serves to advertise itself.

For the roll call the members responded to the question, "What is my idea for increasing grange interest?"

Mrs. Andrew Palmer gave a reading, "The Grange and the Community."

Stunts of a humorous nature were given in charge of Naomi Palmer and Ralph Schuster.

Mrs. William Warner, Jr., Honored at Rank Home

A surprise miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Mrs. William Warner, Jr., Washington street, Friday evening, by her attendant, Miss Irene Rank, Monroe street.

The affair was held at the home of Miss Rank, the guests being assembled in the living room when Mrs. Warner arrived. She was given a telegram, informing her to go to the dining room where a bride held a bouquet of lilies. In each lily a clue was secreted which eventually led to the recreation room where gifts were found. Mrs. Warner was then seated upon a throne beneath a shower of white crepe paper, and in the midst of opening gifts a shower of rice fell upon her. The evening was enjoyed in games. The decorative scheme for the dining room was pink and blue, with the table centerpiece being a bride and groom beneath a bridal arch. Refreshments were served and favors of small nosegays given.

The guests included: the Misses Carrie Rapp, Carrie Worthington, Louise Smoyer, Charlotte and Peggy Rathke, Anita Marsh, Violet Ruth Rank, Mrs. John Price and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rank, Bristol; Miss Carolyn Betz, Edgely; Miss Phyllis Werner, Oak Lane.

Mrs. Warner was the former Miss Gertrude Wills, Trenton, N. J.

FEED THE DUCKS

HULMEVILLE, Feb. 5.—A flock of approximately 100 wild ducks attracted much attention in the Neshaminy Creek along Water street, during the week-end. Many visited the spot, and throughout the day corn, corn-meal, bread, etc., was placed for the group which kept close to this spot where there was open water.

Oink-Oink

(By "The Stroller")
We didn't know it previously, but Groundhog Day is evidently a "gift-giving" day. We thought our list was complete, what with Christmas, birthdays, and other special events well in hand—but it seems that we'll have to add February 2nd to our list if what we just heard of is adopted as a custom.

It appears that two residents of Hulmeville were recipients of special gifts last Friday. One woman showed us the can of sausage she received in the mail, and on the attached tag appeared the following verse:

"There are groundhogs in the meadow,
There are groundhogs in the zoo;
But the little groundhog in this can,
I know, appeals to you."

Father Coughlin Silent

Detroit, Feb. 5.—A mystifying silence today hung over the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin's Shrine of the Little Flower as no reason was advanced for the failure of the radio priest to make his scheduled Sunday afternoon broadcast.

His legion of followers throughout the nation frantically sought an explanation by telephone and telegraph for the absence of Father Coughlin from the air.

Instead of the radio priest's usual greeting came a mysterious announcement by a spokesman, saying the Father would not be on the air and giving no explanation. Another announcement said Father Coughlin "knew what he was doing," and made reference to "events transpiring this week," which would enlighten the public.

Attempts to reach high officials of the Catholic Church to seek rumors ecclesiastical sources had barred Father Coughlin's speech were fruitless. Officials of radio station WJR, which broadcast the radio priest's addresses, said they knew no reason for his non-appearance.

Court Upholds Wage Tax

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—The State Supreme Court today upheld the validity of the 1½% wage tax the city imposed January 1 on all Philadelphians and all persons who earn their living in Philadelphia regardless of whether they live here.

In a three line opinion, the court dismissed the appeal of counsel for Mrs. Jennie Dole, a $10 a week shirt factory worker, who had sought vainly to have the law declared unconstitutional by the Common Pleas court.

"The decree of the court below, dismissing the plaintiff's bill, is affirmed from the rulings of President Judge L. Stauffer Oliver. Costs to be paid by the city of Philadelphia," at per curiam, the decision said.

The Dole suit, one of the several brought by taxpayers in a vain attempt to upset the law, contended the tax ordinance violated the due process clause of the Federal Constitution, by not specifically giving taxpayers the right to appeal the tax.

Hope For Posthumous Pardon

Mt. Holly, N. J., Feb. 5.—Rural Burlington County, which revered its famous county detective, Ellis H. Parker, Sr., hoped today that his death in the Lewisburg, Penna., Federal Penitentiary, would hasten a posthumous Presidential pardon to erase the only blot on his career.

STUDENTS INTERESTED IN STUDY OF EUROPE

MAKE MANY CLIPPINGS

That their subject is a big but fascinating one has been learned by sixth grade pupils of Bath street school, when under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Frank Loderbough, they commenced the study of Europe.

The changing map is before them on the wall, and both pupils and teacher bring to classes news items of interest clipped from the columns of war news appearing in the daily papers. From time to time, the scholars also tell of affairs on that continent as reported in radio broadcasts.

The pupils are fashioning geography books, in which are incorporated all study in connection with this subject during the term. Maps are drawn, clippings pasted into the books, and at the end of the year they will be privileged to take their respective booklets home.

The following from grade six have been perfect in attendance this year: Fred Delia, Marvin Grimes, Anna Arbuthnot, Irene Burke, Catherine Court, Doris Davis, Ruth Daughtrey, Jean Dugan, Mildred Hutchinson, Pauline Stetson.

In the room over which Mrs. John Brehm presides, the scholars made a study of famous people whose birthdays occurred in January, those including Benjamin Franklin and William McKinley. Another outstanding man studied recently was William Penn.

Mrs. Brehm's pupils of grade five who haven't missed any sessions this year are four in number, namely, Ruth Daughtrey, Doris Green, Ida Ritter and William Terneson.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Newtown high school orators are to vie for honors, in a contest which the Newtown Exchange Club will sponsor. Prizes will be $10 and $5, and will be presented at commencement exercises in the Spring.

The contest is scheduled for February 22nd, Washington's Birthday, in high school assembly.

In previous years the Exchange Club had been issuing five dollars to the boy with the highest scholastic average, and another prize to the girl with highest scholarship. The oratorical contest will supplant the former custom, in order to recognize qualities and merits besides scholarship, which is otherwise rewarded.

The judging will allow equal consideration for: (a) subject matter presented, (b) literary style, and (c) delivery.

The course of study in the senior English class has been adapted to include a unit on public speaking during the current weeks. All class members will have exercise and help in this important form of oral expression. Pupils who may have talent in public speaking but lack initiative or courage to enter the contest otherwise, will be discovered and will be given additional practice in encouragement to compete.

The English contract as William Fox has organized it, includes study of types of public discourse, effect of

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

"Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc."

The Backfire On Mr. Dewey

Washington, Feb. 3. IT IS interesting that the two leading candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination should both have trouble at home. Senator Taft, whose "trouble" was named Bricker, has succeeded now in straightening out the situation in a highly satisfactory manner, so that he is assured of the sincere and solid support of his own State. In consequence, his stock has had a considerable rise lately and he seems leading in the race.

THE troubles of Mr. Dewey, however, appear to increase rather than diminish. Of course, his most obvious difficulty at the moment is the candidacy of Mr. Frank Gannett, the up-State publisher of a chain of newspapers. No clear-thinking politician expects Mr. Gannett to be nominated. Exactly why he is a candidate is difficult to understand. While he is an able man of high character, certainly there was no popular demand for him and no one, except himself, takes his candidacy seriously. The effect, however, is to give Mr. Dewey's enemies within his party an opportunity to make their animosity felt and to deprive him of the solid support of his State. If Mr. Gannett stays in the field—and there is no reason to think he will not—he probably will get as many as twenty of the ninety-four delegates which otherwise would be for Dewey.

IT IS not a pleasant situation for Mr. Dewey, but there is little he can do about it. There seems slight chance that he can induce Mr. Gannett to retire and endorse him as Governor Bricker endorsed Senator Taft. There are a number of New York Republican politi-

Stracci-Delia Wedding Is Sunday Morning Event

A mid-Winter wedding, solemnized Sunday in St. Ann's Catholic Church, united Miss Elizabeth C. Delia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Delia, 299 Otter street, and Edward Stracci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stracci, 307 Lincoln avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Peter Pinci at 11 a. m., with nuptial Mass. As the bride party entered the church, Miss Frances Tamburella, organist, played Lohengrin's wedding march. Percy G. Ford was vocalist.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Emma Fanlin, 225 Cleveland street, and the bridesmaids were: Miss Alice Conti, Burlington, N. J.; Miss Rose Ponza and Miss Katharine Angelo, Bristol. The flower girl was Mary Ann Ferrara, niece of the bride. Serving the groom as best man was Frank Palmer, and the ushers were James Massella, Joseph Constantini, Arthur Stracci, brother of the groom, and Francis Della, brother of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore white chiffon velvet. The form-fitting bodice featured a sweetheart neckline, and the long sleeves, cut full and shirred to the elbow, ended in points over the hands. The long full skirt was cut with a train. Her veil of tulle, with face veil, fell in graceful folds from a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. She wore white satin sandals and carried a white prayer book and a rosary. When leaving the church, the bride carried a bouquet of calla and valley lilies.

The attendants were garbed in white silk net over white taffeta. Sweetheart necklines and short puffed sleeves featured and the front of each bodice and the sleeves were trimmed with red velvet ribbon. The skirts were long and full. Each attendant wore a small heart-shaped hat of red velvet flowers trimmed with white veiling, red sandals and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses. The bride travelled in a dress of thistle tone and black black cloth coat with silver fox trim, black hat and accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Stracci will reside in their newly furnished home at 816 Jefferson avenue.

The bride gave each attendant three-strand pearls; and a cross and chain to the flower girl. The groom's gift to his attendants were key chains.

TRUCK DRIVER IS CRUSHED TO DEATH IN UNUSUAL CRASH

Dual Wheel Pulled From Vehicle, Which Then Crashes Into Tree

DEATH INSTANTANEOUS

Truck Body and Large Milk Cans Forced Forward Against Victim

Crushed against the steering wheel of the five-ton truck he drove, when the entire truck body was thrust forward on the chassis and large milk cans were hurled against him, James R. Brown, 45, colored, Philadelphia, met instant death in Bensalem Township yesterday morning.

The accident is said to have been caused when studs from the left rear dual wheel sheared off, and both wheels pulled from the vehicle. The truck careened to the right of State Road, at Andalusia, and crashed against a tree.

So great was the impact that the body of the truck, separate from the cab, was torn loose from the chassis, and pushed forward against the tree. Brown, when his plight was discovered, was lifeless. His body was jammed in the cab in such position that an hour's work was required to release it. Pushed against the steering wheel, to his back were the many large cans of milk which he had been collecting from dairy farms in the vicinity, to take to the Baldwin Dairy Company, Philadelphia, who employed him. The truck body had shoved the cab forward, mashing it against the tree by the impact, and the dash-board was bent back about the steering wheel and the driver.

Workers found it necessary to first remove the heavy cans of milk, then, a wrecker was required to pull the truck body back to its original position on the chassis before the lifeless body could be released. Brown, who is married, resided at 1830 Orthodox street, Philadelphia.

Dr. John F. McFadden, Andalusia, was summoned, and pronounced the driver dead. A certificate of accidental death was given by the deputy coroner of Bucks County, Dr. James P. Lawler.

The spot where the accident occurred was about one-half mile east of Poquessing Creek. Brown had but one more stop to make before taking his cargo to the dairy in Philadelphia. The accident occurred at 8:30 o'clock.

Corporal Evans and private Harris, of Oxford Valley barracks, Pennsylvania Motor Police, investigated. Bucks County Rescue Squad had been notified at Croydon headquarters, and sent an ambulance to the scene, in case services were required.

The body was removed to the funeral home of Harold H. Haefner, Cornwells Heights, and later taken to Philadelphia.

Charles Zucker Takes As His Bride, Miss E. Monti

TULLYTOWN, Feb. 5.—A wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon in St. Ann's Church, Bristol, when Miss Emille Monti became the bride of Charles Zucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Magro.

The ceremony was performed at three o'clock by the Rev. Peter Pinci. The wedding march was played by Miss Frances Tamburella, Bristol; with the choir singing "Ave Maria."

The bride wore a colonial style tulle dress of shell pink, with tight-fitting bodice, with full skirt; a bonnet of pink with finger tip veil. She carried an old fashion bouquet of sweet peas and lilies-of-the-valley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Josephine Magro, sister of the groom, was attired in blue tulle, made with tight bodice, full skirt, and a sweetheart neckline. She wore a wreath of flowers, and carried an old fashioned bouquet of sweet peas and baby breath.

Mr. Zucker was attended by Ferdinand Monti, a brother of the bride. The groom's gift to his attendant was a gold watch chain, while the bride's gift to her attendants was a gold compact.

A reception was held for the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Monti. The couple are spending a month's honeymoon in Florida. The bride's travelling costume was a blue dress, with black accessories.

FLOOD RELIEF PLANS

The movement started in Edgely to plan for flood relief is a timely one and whether or not the need ever arises for putting these plans into effect, the effort will have been worthwhile.

Some of the properties in Edgely Park are located on low land and if there should be a sudden thawing and a rapid breaking-up of the ice in the Delaware river, occupants of these properties would be put to considerable expense in moving and they may also suffer damage to their properties and contents.

Those who are agitating the organization of volunteer flood relief workers could do much, if the occasion arises, to aid those whose homes would be endangered.

Another plan is to pump water from cellars which might be flooded and if the residents of the community are properly organized, the volunteer workers can be quickly mobilized and would soon spring into action and render aid when it would be most needed.

If the danger should arise during the night there would be urgent need for quick action and work for many hands to do. People would have to be aroused quickly and taken to places of safety.

It is a preparedness move worthy of general support.

IDELE MONEY AT A PEAK

The idle money in the national banks of the country reached an all-time peak on January 24, when it amounted to $5,590,000,000. Previously, on October 25, this excess of deposits over reserve requirements reached $5,530,000,000, but government financing and withdrawals for Christmas shopping reduced the total considerably. Within recent weeks the amount has climbed again.

This money is the basis for potential credit amounting to $45,000,- 000,000 and the Federal Reserve Board has frequently asked Congress to confer on it such powers as may be necessary to prevent further inflation. There is real danger of such a contingency, of course, but the point with which the average citizen is concerned is that this large amount of money is idle in the banks.

In order to have prosperity money as well as men must work, but those who have money are afraid to invest it. Billions of dollars might profitably be spent in replacement of obsolete machinery in industrial plants or even in enlarging these plants. New enterprises could be launched. But let the individual ask himself what he would do with a few thousand dollars today if he had it to invest. Government competition has driven the rate of interest to a point where an investor has little encouragement to take any risk.

Banks are merely trustees of these funds. They stand ready to make all the safe loans for which there is demand and the would-be borrower who has a sound proposition will have no trouble in getting accommodation. But banks cannot afford to take long chances with the money of other people and so the period of idle men and idle dollars lengthens into years.

Congress is doing some good work in the direction of cutting down government expenditures and this has created a better feeling, but it will have to be seen, first, whether these economies are kept up and in the second place, the restrictive legislation which has discouraged business and industry must be repealed.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol June 20, 1878. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The following items were culled from The Bucks County Gazette, week ending June 20, 1878:

A Reformed congregation was organized about one year ago at Chalfont, Bucks County. The congregation have just completed a neat church edifice—it was dedicated on Sunday, June 16th.
The Rev. W. C. Hendrickson, of the Philadelphia Classis of the Reformed Church of the United States, preached the dedicatory sermon to a very large congregation. The cost of the building was $1700, but $400 remains to be provided for.

Miss Mitchell, principal of the Friends' School, has completed her engagement here in a most satisfactory manner to her pupils and their parents.

The annual picnic of the public schools will be held in Teminison's woods, on Friday, June 28th.

Ellis Cliver, of Burlington county, has shipped over 10,000 boxes of strawberries to Bristol this season.
Nathan Roberts has also sold over 10,000 boxes from Samuel Hulme's farm.

The new excursion steamer "Republic" makes her first trip down the bay today.

Joshua Peirce is building for William Moulton a dwelling house at corner of Logan and Pond streets.

Wild strawberries grow in the grass in the prison yard at Doylestown.

Moses L. Naylor, teller of the First National Bank of Newtown, has been offered and will accept a desirable position in the Mechanics National Bank of Philadelphia.

Newtown is reveling in the luxury of a telephone.

Charles C. Burleigh, formerly a resident of this place, died at his home in Florence, Mass., on the 14th instant, in his 68th year. His death was caused by a railroad accident at Florence. His funeral was very largely attended, so great was the thrill that hundreds lingered outside of Cosman Hall, where the services were held, unable to enter.

On Tuesday evening of this week Miss Merriam closed the third year of her school, with public exercises in Washington Hall. These continued for two hours and a quarter, but such was their excellence and variety that at the end of the time the audience seemed as fresh as at the beginning.
The feature which distinguished the occasion was the graduation of two young ladies (Miss Annie S. York and Miss Katie J. Thomas), to whom were presented testimonies of their successful completion of the curriculum of studies. Each read an essay and acquitted herself well. The other exercises of the evening were entertaining and pleasing, especially so was the "Anvil Chorus with Dumbells," in which the entire school participated. Another attraction of the evening was the recitation of Mattie Hughes and of Miriam Cone.
The diplomas to graduates were presented at Miss Merriam's request by Rev. Dr. Knox, in a few words of congratulation.

Rev. J. F. Chaplain, presiding elder, preached at the Methodist Church, Sunday evening last.

The complimentary excursion of the "Nelly White," last Friday evening, was a crowded one, and an enjoyable occasion. Bordentown band furnished the music. The party returned about 12 1/2 o'clock, Saturday morning.

The Baptist Sunday School excursion to the International Exhibition Building, Fairmount Park, on Saturday, will go to the city by way of the "Columbia."

Last Thursday night three hens and 31 chickens were stolen from the property of P. O. Hutchins, corner Walnut and Wood streets. They were all in a barrel, which was in use as a temporary coop, and the barrel with its contents was carried off bodily.
On Saturday two of the hens and 28 of the chickens were recovered. John McOwen bought them of the person who stole them, who has since disappeared, and learning that Mr.
Hutchins had lost just such a lot of poultry, he inquired of the matter, the result of his inquiries being that Mr.
Hutchins came into possession of the greater portion of his stolen property.

clans anxious to keep the Gannett candidacy vibrant for the sole purpose of weakening Mr. Dewey in the convention. Exactly why they should want to weaken him is a question to which no adequate answer has been given. It would seem natural that these Republican politicians would be interested in building Mr. Dewey up instead of pulling him down. By reason of his record as district attorney and his extraordinary fight for the Governorship he has become a leading available for the Presidential nomination. There is no other Republican from New York who has the remotest chance to be nominated.

YET no secret is made that the little stories which appear in print derogatory to Mr. Dewey come from Republican politicians who are supposed to be supporting him. Mostly these dwell upon alleged unpleasant personal characteristics of Mr. Dewey. He is described as "arrogant" and "con-

New Dean

Dr. Stevenson W. Fletcher, acting dean and acting director of the School of Agriculture and Experiment Station of the Pennsylvania State College, has been named dean and director by action of the College's board of trustees. Dr. Fletcher has been acting head since the retirement of Dean Ralph L. Watts on January 1, 1939. Dean Fletcher was previously vice dean and director of research and has been a member of the Penn State faculty since 1916.
He is a graduate of Massachusetts Agricultural College and received the degrees of master of science and doctor of philosophy from Cornell University.

collected, "immature," a publicity seeker unwilling to give credit to anyone except himself, and so on and so forth. The New Deal strategists, for obvious reasons, co-operate in this anti-Dewey campaign and in columns which consistently reflect the "inner circle," slurs, slams and sneers at Mr. Dewey appear with considerable frequency. This is pretty small stuff, but typical.

IT IS curious that men who on the surface, politically and personally, are for Mr. Dewey should engage in this surreptitious effort to disparage him. How much, if any, this is hurting Mr. Dewey is impossible to tell, but certainly it is doing him no good. Nor is there anything he can do about it. The only explanation given for what is going on is that certain leading Republican politicians in New York "don't like" Mr. Dewey. The basis for their distaste seems to be more resentment of his political success than anything else. What these politicians really dislike is that a young man of 37 years of age, with what they think no record of party service, should rise so suddenly to a political height where he overshadows every other party man in the State, including themselves. It seems a clear case of malice.

THIS is accentuated by Mr.
Dewey's disposition not to accept all the advice tendered by his party elders. He seems inclined to make up his own mind and proceed on his own lines. In brief, the hostility to Dewey among New York Republican politicians is partly due to jealousy of his spectacular rise and partly to their inability to establish ascendancy over him. Both these things are to Mr. Dewey's credit, but they do not endear him to the politicians.
That, despite this backfire at home, Mr. Dewey has developed strength enough to be one of the two leading candidates in the country, is something of a tribute to him. His friends take comfort from the fact that in 1932 more than half the New York delegation to the 1932 Democratic Convention was strongly opposed to Franklin Roosevelt. The New York politicians did not like him either.

It is this column some days ago the statement was made that the Federal Register is a Government publication of limited circulation in which Executive orders are recorded; that it is published by the Office of Government Reports and that the order giving the Black Committee access to income-tax figures in 1935 was buried therein.
Major Kennedy, director of the Federal Register, points out that it has a circulation of 9,000, is part of the Bureau of National Archives, not of the Office of Reports, and did not print the Black Committee order because it was not in existence at the time. It is a pleasure to make these corrections, but they do not affect the facts that the order giving the Black Committee access to income-tax figures was not published until three weeks after its creation. F. R. K.

Casserole Dishes Are Budget Wise

By Katharine Fisher

Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

Get out your casserole—when you find your food bills running high and your ideas low. There's nothing like the casserole for turning the less expensive cuts of meats, and such old friends as cheese, canned vegetables, eggs and fish, into hearty treats that go easy on both purse and time. Not only do casserole dishes satisfy the hearty appetites of wintry days, but they have a fragrant hotness that is a welcome change from the skillet-to-platter-to-plate idea. Casserole dishes have this advantage, too: You can make them up several hours before serving time and let your refrigerator keep them in good condition; when dinnertime comes around, the oven will do the rest. Here are several of our Institute recipes you will want to try.

Hot Frankfurter and Potato Salad Casserole

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use standard measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.
6 c. thinly sliced cooked potatoes 2 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 c. salad or olive oil 1/4 c. vinegar
1 No. 2 can (2 1/2 c.) string beans
1/4 c. sliced onions
6 frankfurters

Combine the potatoes, salt, pepper, oil, and vinegar. Arrange the drained string beans in the bottom of a 3-qt. covered casserole. Over them arrange the potato salad in alternate layers with the onions and sliced frankfurters. (Cook the latter 5 min. before using.) Cover and bake in a moderately hot oven of 400° F. for 35 to 40 min. Serves 6. To serve 2 or 3, make half this recipe.

Meat and Pineapple Casserole

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use standard measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.
1 lb. chuck beef, ground
1/4 lb. shoulder veal, ground
2 tsp. salt
1/2 c. soft bread crumbs
1/2 c. canned crushed pineapple
1 egg, beaten

Mix all the ingredients and turn into a greased 1 1/2 qt. casserole. Bake in a moderately hot oven of 375° F. for 1 1/2 hrs. Serves 6. To serve 2 or 3, make half this recipe.

Scalloped of Lamb and Rice

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use standard measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.
2 1/2 lbs. shoulder of lamb Seasoned flour
2 medium onions or 1 clove garlic 6 tbsp. salad oil or fat 1/4 c. sliced fresh or drained canned mushrooms
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 c. soft bread crumbs
1/2 c. canned crushed pineapple
1/4 c. hot water
1/4 c. strained canned tomatoes
Rice

Cut the lamb into pieces as for stew. Roll lightly in flour seasoned with salt and pepper in the proportions of 1/2 c. flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, and 1/4 tsp. pepper. Then sauté with the minced onion in a skillet in the hot salad oil, until golden brown on all sides. Turn into a casserole, add the mushrooms, salt, sugar, pepper, hot water, and strained tomatoes. Canned tomato juice may be used instead of the strained tomatoes. Cover and cook in a moderate oven of 350° F. until the meat is tender—about 1 1/2 hrs. Serve with rice which has been cooked tender in boiling salted water. Serves 6. To serve 2 or 3 make half this recipe.

If desired, shoulder of veal may be substituted for the lamb in this recipe, the cooking time being increased to 2 hrs.

Spaghetti, Cheese and Ham Casserole

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use standard measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.
1 1/2 c. uncooked spaghetti in 2" pieces 1 peeled garlic bud
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 tsp. minced onion
1/4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 c. grated American cheese
1 1/2 c. grated American cheese 1 4 1/2-oz. can deviled ham 1/4 c. evaporated milk
1/4 c. water

Cook the spaghetti and garlic together, until the spaghetti is tender; drain, removing garlic. Arrange in a greased 1 1/2 qt. casserole, and add the remaining ingredients, mixed together. Bake in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven of 325° F. for 75 min., or until a silver knife inserted in the center comes out clean. This recipe serves 6.

Vienna Sausage Pie

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use standard measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.
1 10-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup 1/2 c. bottled milk or 1/4 c. evaporated milk and 1/4 c. water 1 5-oz. can Vienna sausage
1 No. 2 can (2 1/2 c.) peas
Pleasant

Combine the soup and milk in a 1-qt. casserole. Add the sausages cut in halves or slices, and the drained peas. Meanwhile make piecrust, using 1 c. sifted cake flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 c. shortening, and enough cold water to moisten. Roll 1/4" thick and arrange over the top of the casserole. Bake in a hot oven of 450° F. for 30 min. Serves 4.

Croydon Park Miss is Wed
To Tacony Man on Saturday

With the Rev. Father Joseph Diamond officiating, the marriage of Miss Mabel I. Naylor, Croydon Park, and Frank J. Adams, Tacony, was solemnized in St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church, Croydon, Saturday afternoon at the hour of 3.15.

The former Miss Naylor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Naylor and the groom is the son of Charles Adams, Tacony.

The attendant of the bride was Mrs. Jesse Vansant, Bristol, and serving Mr. Adams as best man was William Rotan, Philadelphia.

The gown chosen by the bride for her wedding was of white satin, the Princess model having long tight sleeves, and a train. From the pearl tiara fell a long net veil with trim of lace, and to the tiara was also attached a face veil. White satin slippers completed the costume, and the bride carried white lilies.

Mrs. Vansant was attired in pink taffeta, the dress featuring a form-fitting bodice and full skirt. Her hat and veil were of a matching shade, and her slippers of silver. Red roses formed the arm bouquet.

A dinner was served to 50 guests at the residence of Mrs. Jesse Vansant, Sr., Bristol, an aunt of the bride.

Following a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Adams will take up their residence on 34th street, Philadelphia.

SABOTAGED SKODA

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—(INS)—Czech workmen sabotaged the huge Skoda arms works seized by Germany, according to Charles Tulka, a Czech newspaperman who visited here recently. "When Czech workmen saw that Hitler was about to take over the plant," Tulka said, "they altered the machinery by changing tiny parts from one part of the plant to another, putting a wheel with 14 cogs where a 16-cog wheel belonged. They destroyed most of the factory's blueprints."

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL THEATRE
"Gulliver," the giant-sized hero of Jonathan Swift's classic fantasy is now the central figure in a picture that towers as much over ordinary screen fare as he did above the "Lilliputians!"

It's "Gulliver's Travels," Max Fleisher's full-length cartoon feature in Technicolor, which got the cheers it deserves last night at the Bristol

Theatre, where it had its first local showing!

GRAND THEATRE

The best-loved songs of Stephen C. Foster, the great American troubadour, are heard in "Swanee River," the Technicolor production, featuring Don Ameche, Andrea Leeds and Al Jolson at the Grand Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.

Ameche, who plays the composer, and Jolson, who plays E. P. Christy, minstrel king of that colorful day, sing several of the songs, and other melodies are rendered by the famous Hall Johnson Choir.

Among the numbers sung are "The Old Folks at Home" (Swanee River), "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Oh! Susanna!," "De Camp-town Races," "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair."

RITZ THEATRE

The dramatic conflicts concealed behind the stern and sterile features of young men of medicine—their loves and glories, emitties and failures—comprise the provocative theme of "Disputed Passage," which is at the Ritz Theatre.

Based on the best-selling Lloyd C. Douglas novel, the picture presents Dorothy Lamour, John Howard and Akim Tamiroff in top roles.

"Disputed Passage" like previous Douglas stories, is ideally suited for screen adaptation.

IN ALL KINDS OF WEATHER, on all kinds of roads, Bell Telephone cars and trucks keep rolling... day after day. Last year, the 1,550 motor vehicles operated by this company in Pennsylvania rolled up more than 12 million miles! We can't say that we've never had an accident. But 654 of our men have completed ten or more years of driving company cars without being responsible for a single one. That's the equivalent of 100,000 miles or more of safe driving for each of these men! More than 65,400,000 miles in all!

We try to give you fast service on all repairs and installations, as well as on your calls. But we believe that there's always time for safe and courteous driving. We'd rather be a few minutes late on a job than a second too quick at a crossing.

Six hundred and fifty-four of our drivers have won membership in the Bell Telephone Hundred Thousand Mile Club by completing ten or more years of safe driving.

BENSALEM MATMEN WIN 4TH STRAIGHT WRESTLING MEET

Coach Reimer's Matmen Easily Defeat Episcopal Academy

FINAL COUNT IS 32 TO 5

Owls Capture Eight of The Nine Bouts At Bensalem

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Feb. 5.—Episcopal Academy's wrestlers offered coach George Reimer's Bensalem Owl matmen little opposition as the Owls trimmed the Academy boys 32-5 for their fourth straight mat victory.

The Owls captured eight of the nine bouts, half of which were won via decisions, while three were gained by falls, and one on a forfeit. The only points chalked up by the Episcopal lads was scored in the 125 lb. class in which Cliff Lewis threw Bensalem's Charlie Finn with a half nelson and arm lock after wrestling 1:44. Finn, who was substituting for Barney Reynolds and Charlie Mudge, both of whom were overweight, wrestled in his first varsity meet. And his inexperience proved his downfall.

The summaries:

95 lb. class: Stan Reynolds, Bensalem, won on a forfeit, having no opponent. Score: Bensalem, 5; Episcopal Academy, 0.

105 lb. class: Barney Hughes, Bensalem, scored a decision victory over Ben Puh, Episcopal Academy. Score: Bensalem, 8; Episcopal Academy, 0.

115 lb. class: Jim Shapcott, Bensalem, pinned Cliff Ellis, Episcopal Academy, with a half nelson and body press in 1:45. Score: Bensalem, 13; Episcopal Academy, 0.

125 lb. class: Charles Finn, Bensalem, was pinned by Cliff Lewis, Episcopal Academy, with a half nelson and arm lock in 1:44. Score: Bensalem, 13; Episcopal Academy, 5.

135 lb. class: Bob Reynolds, Bensalem, tossed Bob Herta, Episcopal Academy, in 5:55 with a half nelson and bar arm lock. Score: Bensalem, 18; Episcopal Academy, 5.

145 lb. class: Charles Vanzant, Bensalem, beat Jim Earle, Episcopal Academy, on a referee's decision. Score: Bensalem, 21; Episcopal Academy, 5.

155 lb. class: George Lauer, Bensalem, defeated Bill Turner, Episcopal Academy, on a time advantage. Score: Bensalem, 24; Episcopal Academy, 5.

165 lb. class: Elwood Silcox, Bensalem, won over Hal J. Smith, Episcopal Academy, on a referee's decision. Score: Bensalem, 27; Episcopal Academy, 5.

175 lb. class: Warren Jester, Bensalem, tossed Hal Hepburn, Episcopal Academy, with a half nelson and body press in 2:29. Score: Bensalem, 32; Episcopal Academy, 5.

J. S. Fine and C. Hagan Win in Pigeon Shoot

A pig and a turkey went to the highest scorers in two pigeon shooting matches at Prickett's Sales Stables, Bath Road, yesterday.

J. S. Fine, in hitting 15 out of a total of 15 birds, took home the "bacon" in the form of the pig in the first match, 14 entering that contest.

In the second match, C. Hagan, Philadelphia, also got his total of 15 birds, out of 15 shots.

Four hundred and seven birds were released in this bi-weekly shoot.

RESULT OF GAME TONIGHT IS IMPORTANT TO TEAMS

The Profy basketball team is at stake tonight for tonight they meet the Grundy team in a tilt which will have a strong bearing on the outcome of the league.

For if the Grundy team wins it will clinch the championship of the circuit and draw a bye in the playoffs. And a victory for Grundy over the Profy may shove the Profites back into fourth place as Manhattan is idle and Rohm and Haas has an easy mark in the Celtics.

Profy is in a deadlock with Manhattan for second place and Rohm and Haas is close behind in fourth place. Therefore, it all depends on the boys of Hystie Grimes tonight.

Manager Grimes will have his strongest lineup on the floor in Slavon, Klein, Hughes, Carnvale and Profy Grundy will stick to the same line-up of Gallagher, Nowalski, Zack, Buckman, and Vanzant. If Gallagher's injury keeps him on the bench, then Burke will fill in.

Rohm and Haas does not expect much trouble against the Celtics although this club threw a big scare into them in their meeting several weeks ago when Rohm and Haas won, 19-13. At half-time, the Celtics were ahead, 12-4. Rohm and Haas will start Cahall, Cole, Rose, Smith and Wedeman, with Manager Della starting Welsh, Dougherty, DeLuca, Harkins and McGee.

In the Suburban League tilt, the Celtics, Jrs., will meet the South Langhorne Shamrocks. The Shamrocks have lost six straight games. The Celtics lost several games by close margins but still have a chance for the playoffs. First game is scheduled for 7.15 p.m.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Although headed for another world, David B. Goldberg, 45-year-old New Yorker, knew that his wife and children would wake to face the trials of another day on earth. So the last thing he did before leaping to his death from the sixteenth floor of a Manhattan hotel, was to leave a note: "Please don't notify my home until morning."

CAT REFUGE

BOSTON — (INS) — A stowaway aboard the United States steamer Algic, Arbutus, pretty white and gray cat, fled from Liverpool to the United States to bring her family into the world in a peaceful land. Arbutus, an expectant mother, sought refuge aboard the Algic during a Liverpool air raid. Shooed ashore on first attempts, the cat was found hidden in the paint locker after the vessel sailed.

Fire Damages Tap-Room of Thos. Lever room portion of the building had recently been enlarged and improved. Mr. Lever estimated his loss at "about $4,000, with no insurance."

The blaze originated in the basement of the building from an overheated stove. Mr. Lever at the time the fire was discovered was asleep in the rear of the building. A man known as "Squire," who made his residence with Lever, had built a fire in the stove in the basement and had looked at it about ten minutes before the blaze was discovered.

The flames burned up through the floor and enveloped the entire front which was used as a tap-room. This portion of the frame structure, one story in height, was gutted completely. The stock of wines, liquors and beer was ruined, and this included several cases of canned beer.

Ray Sattler, who lives nearby, said that someone summoned him and advised him of the fire. Sattler said that he telephoned the Croydon Fire Department. The Croydon firemen quickly responded, as did two pieces of apparatus from the Bristol Consolidated Fire Department. The Bristol firemen did not get into service as they were not needed. The Croydon firemen remained at the scene for quite some time.

Lever said that he would rebuild, and may name the place "Charcoal Hotel," as he gazed wistfully at the charred ruins of the interior.

which will mean jobs for all Americans. I further favor adequate old-age pensions; adequate pensions for the blind; adequate pensions for all veterans of all our wars, and for the widows and orphans of deceased veterans. I hope to see that those people over the age of 65 who are not properly cared for under existing laws, will be provided for adequately.

"I do not believe in concerning ourselves with foreign entanglements of any kind, and I maintain that we should keep a strict and absolute neutrality at all times. I do believe in a program of national defense built up to such a point that all other nations will respect us. A national defense second to none is, I believe, the cheapest insurance for peace that we as a nation could obtain. However, I believe this problem, like all of our other problems, begins at home with the thought of the general welfare of our people first in mind.

"I favor less taxation levied upon business and industry, and thus indirectly levied upon the average person. When business is down, everything else is down in proportion. When business is prosperous, the merchant, the doctor, the lawyer, the farmer, all are prosperous automatically. I sincerely believe, therefore, that we should have more business logic in our government, and less Government interference in private enterprise.

"Since I have been a Member of the House of Representatives I have given 100% of my time to the duties of the office. I have endeavored to represent the people of my district to the best of my ability. My office has always been open to the people of this District, to the young and old, the rich and poor. No service that I could render has ever been refused; no job has been too small, none has been too large for me to undertake personally. I have faithfully tried to be all that the name 'representative' implies. My voting record on the legislation which has been passed during my term of office is an open book, and I am sure that it is not necessary for me to dwell on that record. Suffice it to say that I have done my best, to the best of my ability, to try and get the best for the constituents and for the people of the United States as a whole. And, I assure you, if I am renominated as the Republican candidate, and re-elected to a seat in Congress from the Ninth Congressional District, I shall continue to serve the people of my district, and the people of the nation, in the same honest, sincere, hard-working way. I hope, therefore, to have your support at the Primary Election."

Expect Coast Guard Cutter To Open Channel

against floods in the Trenton area. Trenton, it was stated, does not have the funds to employ the service of Philadelphia's ice-boats for an operation so extensive as required in opening the channel.

The river is at a sub-normal level, with a recorded tide not in excess of three feet," Arthur W. Dover, Trenton port manager, reported. "Consequently, the ebb is quite ineffective in rapidly moving the broken ice out of the channel. It would be necessary therefore for a patrol to move up and down the river until it became safe for barges and tugs to navigate, as floating ice which would move out extremely slow would undoubtedly cause great damage to and possibly sink vessels of this type."

Dover reported there were at least 20 vessels with cargoes to be delivered to points between Burlington and Trenton awaiting the opening of the river. Petroleum products, he declared, are getting "dangerously low," causing the seven companies with tanks along the river just below Trenton to press trucks into service between refineries and distribution stations. If a severe snowstorm should strike Trenton, the port manager warned, a shortage in fuel oil and gasoline might develop.

Unless the river is opened up, Dover said he feared the stream would overflow when the thaw sets in, also causing the Assunpink and Sanhican Creeks to go over their banks, resulting in property damage.
